Experiential Education (Pre-K - Grade 12)

When we get students out of the classroom, we see the multiple intelligences that we know exist in these children shining. If we can get them outside, touching things and asking questions, all the higher level thinking skills come out much more simply and visibly.

Summer Camp

I had fun at camp this summer because the people and nature were very enjoyable. I learned that backpacking is fun, that it's easier to make new friends than I thought, and that I don't need my phone to have a good time.

Responsible Agriculture

The additional resources of the many pounds of fresh produce we receive from Hidden Villa each year allow us to truly know we are providing nutritious food resources to our clients, in particular to two groups where there is a greater dietary need for healthier food: our children and our seniors. One client shared, "Thanks to this help, my family and I can eat better."
